HUDSON RIVER ART EXCITES BIDDING

Success Attends Sale of Pictures by Members of Old School.

$1,050 PAID FOR McCORD

Wyant's "Mountain Stream" Brings $1,200—Knoedler's Gets Quaint Painting.

The sale of "Hudson River" pictures last night in the galleries of the American Art Association was a decided success. The crowd was not large, but it was distinctly interested, and what is more, bid emphatically for the things it wanted. So much so that a record was established. A picture by George H. McCord brought $1,050, which is the best this artist has done at an auction.

The pictures came from the estates of the late Miss Mary E. Garrett of Baltimore and of the late Robert M. Olyphant, and as many of the works were by painters who are no longer in the height of fashion, there was some conjecture as to the prices they would bring. The result proves either that there is a large class of picture lovers that are independent of fashion, or that the patriotic devotion to the native landscape, which seemed to suffer an eclipse some years ago, has been reawakened by the war.

The leading price of the evening was $1,200, paid by Mrs. George E. Kellogg for Alexander H. Wyant's "Mountain Stream." Mrs. Kellogg it was, who also acquired George H. McCord's "Autumn" for $1,050. Knoedler & Co. gave $480 for a quaint picture of the early rail-roading days, the "9:45 Accommodation," by E. L. Henry.

The list of paintings that brought $150 and up follows:

Price of 96 Pictures.

Pictures sold by direction of the executors of the late Robert M. Morrison Olyphant of New York and by order of a legatee of the late Miss Mary E. Garrett of Baltimore at the American Art Galleries last evening brought returns of $11,541 for the ninety-six numbers. The highest prices of the evening were paid by Mrs. George E. Kellogg for pictures from the Olyphant estate. A small Wyant, "The Mountain Stream," went to Mrs. Kellogg for $1,200, and she paid $1,050 for "Autumn," by George Herbert McCord. Other pictures bringing some of the higher prices were:

37—Te Deum Laudamus—Sir George Hayter; Lorenz, agent.....	$210
50—Winter in Holland—Koekkoek; F. J. Fitzpatrick.....	480

ART AND BOOK SALES

Olyphant-Garrett Picture Sale

Some 96 oils from the collections of the late Robert M. Olyphant and of the late Marry E. Garrett of Baltimore, were sold at the American Art Galleries, Mon. eve. last, Feb. 17, for a total of $11,541.50.

As the works sold, with the exception of some few examples of such older foreign painters as the Dutch and German Koekkoek, Leutze, Herzog and Ary Scheffer, the older Englishmen, Fald, Firth, Cooper and Hayter, and the Frenchmen Brion and Edouard Frere, were by the Hudson River school of American painters, Kensett, Casilear, David Johnson, McEntee, Cropsey, Hicks and Hubbard and Sonntag and their later fellows Yewell, McCord, Eastman Johnson, Wyant and Carleton Wiggins with one example of John Neagle, the son-in-law of Sully, all of whose works are out of vogue, the prices brought would be considered remarkably high were it not for the fact that the majority were purchased by Mrs. George C. Kellogg of the Olyphant family. Still, there were several bargains. Mrs. Kellogg paid the highest price, $1,200, of the sale for an early Wyant, "The Mountain Stream," and $1,050 for a McCord.

5. Shipping, boxing or wrapping of purchases is a business in which the Association is in no wise engaged, and will not be performed by the Association for purchasers. The Association will, however, afford to purchasers every facility for employing at current and reasonable rates carriers and packers; doing so, however, without any assumption of responsibility on its part for the acts and charges of the parties engaged for such service.

6. Storage of any purchase shall be at the sole risk of the purchaser. Title passes upon the fall of the auctioneer's hammer, and thereafter, while the Association will exercise due caution in caring for and delivering such purchase, it will not hold itself responsible if such purchase be lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed.

Storage charges will be made upon all purchases not removed within ten days from the date of the sale thereof.

7. Guarantee is not made either by the owner or the Association of the correctness of the description, genuineness or authenticity of any lot, and no sale will be set aside on account of any incorrectness, error of cataloguing, or any imperfection not noted. Every lot is on public exhibition one or more days prior to its sale, after which it is sold "as is" and without recourse.

The Association exercises great care to catalogue every lot correctly, and will give consideration to the opinion of any trustworthy expert to the effect that any lot has been incorrectly catalogued, and, in its judgment, may either sell the lot as catalogued or make mention of the opinion of such expert, who thereby would become responsible for such damage as might result were his opinion without proper foundation.

349—LARGE FLEMISH RENAISSANCE TAPESTRY OF THE EARLY SEVENTEENTH CENTURY

"Allegorical Hunting Fete"

A clearing in an expansive, well-wooded countryside discloses a vista of a straggling village, its church, and the sun setting over distant hills. The landscape is animated with many personages and wild animals; in the center the "Master of Ceremonies" has a cloth spread on the green-sward before him to receive the various trophies of the chase; several menials, with large antlered stag-heads on their shoulders, approach the rapidly assembling crowd of mounted and unmounted huntsmen and their leashed dogs, that are grouped around to view the result of the day's sport. On the left the noble Seigneur and a companion watch the proceedings from a distance, while his lady, who is beside him, bends over to pet a favorite hound; on the right among the trees, the chase is still in progress. The foreground is occupied by a pool and a tangle of wild flowers in which appear exaggerated and many fantastic allegorical animals of the chase: pheasants, rabbits, a wild duck, a crested heron and a fox, and at left a classic chimera.

The dull blues and greens of the woodland are enriched with crimson, ivory, tan, yellows and light blues of the costumes. The elaborate borders are similar at crown and foot; a central balustraded grape arbor is occupied by Ceres bearing a cornucopia, and flanked by further canopied lattice arbors sustained by caryatids and enclosing "An Italian Garden," a faun amid fruit trees, and several of the signs of the Zodiac duly inscribed. The side borders are similarly paneled and sustain at the top allegorical figures of "Truth" and "Justice"; under are further signs of the Zodiac, and below at the left a group depicting Venus seated with Mars and Cupid in close proximity, on the right Juno seated with the great Jupiter and a peacock near her. The coloring of the borders is of the brighter tones of the field on deep ivory grounds. (Various repairs are needed.)
